Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-83 and 88, drawn to recommending items to users in one or more user groups, classified in class 705, subclass 10.
 - II. Claims 84-86 and 89, drawn to identifying similar users to a first user, classified in class 705, subclass 10.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility such as providing personalized recommendations to a user based on the users past rating history. Subcombination II has separate utility such as matching a user with a similar group of users (i.e. no recommendations are being made). Support for this distinction is found on pages 1-2 and page 20 of the specification. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

If Invention I above is elected, then it is requested that Applicant further elect one of the species listed below.

Art Unit: 3623

4. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:
- Species I: an estimator that uses ratings of items by users who are outside the specific cohort being predicted (claim 19)
- Species II: an alternative estimator that yields regression coefficients (claims 20-26)
- Species III: Computing prior probability for non-specific users using posterior probability distributions, which is one alternative of a statistical approach used by the system (claims 27-30);
- Species IV: Performing joint recommendations based on the ratings of the group as a whole (Claims 51, 61-63);
- Species III: Assigning users to multiple cohorts, where their membership is fractional or weighted in each cohort (claims 49, 64-65)
- Species III: recommendations being computer for each user separately and the recommendations for the group include the best recommendation for each user in the group (claims 66-71)
- Species IV: multiple domain recommendations, wherein a rating of one item is used to predict the rating of a second, different item (claim 80-83)

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-18, 31-48, 50, 52-60, 72-79, and 88 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

5. No telephone call was made because the above restriction requirement is complex.
